Leadership Spotlight: Bridging Policy and Practice

A key BCPVPA Leadership Competency is Bridging Policy and Practice — the ability of school leaders to translate system policies into meaningful action within their school communities. Principals and Vice-Principals are at the forefront of this work, putting policies into practice, engaging with staff, students, families, and community members, and adapting initiatives to meet the unique needs of their schools.

This competency is closely tied to fiduciary responsibility. School leaders act with care and integrity, ensuring that decisions and actions reflect the best interests of the district and board. By thoughtfully connecting policy intentions to day-to-day practice, leaders foster trust, accountability, and positive outcomes across the school community.

Chapters interested in workshops on this topic can contact mssinfo@bcpvpa.bc.ca. Members are also encouraged to familiarize themselves with all of the BCPVPA Leadership Competencies.
