Communication with Trustees

While every district is different and has unique protocols, one commonality is around a Principal and Vice-Principal's role in communicating with Trustees. Members are reminded of the importance of following their Superintendent's guidelines and directions when it comes to expected protocols for this.

If a member is approached by a Trustee with a request for information or with questions regarding the school or the district, the recommendation would be to check in with their Superintendent (or Assistant Superintendent) around what the communication protocol is. In most cases, all communication with Trustees is managed through the Superintendent or their delegate.

Any questions around a Principal or Vice-Principal's role in this area can be directed to the MSS team at mssinfo@bcvpva.bc.ca.
